

Children of Promise

Choose from these questions for discussion

1. What is allegory?
2. Why is it important that we remind each other of what the Bible says about our lives?
3. How can we tell each other the truth in love?
4. Who in the church will have to give an account for how the instructed and guided the church as a whole?
5. What was the difference between the birth of Ishmael and the birth of Isaac?
6. Who do Hagar and her children represent today?
7. Who do Sarah and her children represent today?
8. Does persecution and distress change how we are called to live and act with each other?
9. How can we help each other live godly lives, especially when it's difficult?
10. Since the promises of God are our motivation for encouraging each other to fight for godliness, which promises do you find most helpful to remember?
11. What does it mean for us that Jesus has set us free?
12. Are there any ways that you're not living like you're free from sin, guilt, and shame? Talk about these things together.

Galatians 4:21-5:1 Romans 6 Genesis 16,17, & 21

Notes:

Children of Promise

Choose from these questions for discussion

1. What is allegory?
2. Why is it important that we remind each other of what the Bible says about our lives?
3. How can we tell each other the truth in love?
4. Who in the church will have to give an account for how the instructed and guided the church as a whole?
5. What was the difference between the birth of Ishmael and the birth of Isaac?
6. Who do Hagar and her children represent today?
7. Who do Sarah and her children represent today?
8. Does persecution and distress change how we are called to live and act with each other?
9. How can we help each other live godly lives, especially when it's difficult?
10. Since the promises of God are our motivation for encouraging each other to fight for godliness, which promises do you find most helpful to remember?
11. What does it mean for us that Jesus has set us free?
12. Are there any ways that you're not living like you're free from sin, guilt, and shame? Talk about these things together.

Galatians 4:21-5:1 Romans 6 Genesis 16,17, & 21

Notes:

